THE BEGINNING OF LENT.

NEW YORK, ESPECIALLY, IT SAID THAT THE TAX IS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE PRESENT HIGH PRICE OF BUTTER THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY—MAY REPEAL DIED TAX.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Hearing evidence was commenced today by the House Committee on Agriculture on the bill introduced by Representative Burke of Texas, repealing the tax on oleomargarine, which tax, as asserted, was responsible for the present high price of butter throughout the country.

Burke's bill was introduced, Burke said, there was manufactured annually 1,000,000 pounds of oleomargarine, which he characterized as pure and wholesome food product and which sold for from 12 to 15 cents a pound. The price of butter was 20 to 25 cents a pound.

The production of oleomargarine by use of the tax had been estimated at 100,000,000 pounds, and the price of butter had risen to 20 to 25 cents a pound.

Provision of the bill was amended, Burke charged, by the National Dairy Union and by "a disreputable class of men," he said, expected to cause the repeal of the bill.

Mr. Burke said he represented many associations of cattle growers, cotton and oleomargarine associations, National Dairy Union, and National Oleomargarine Association, and that he represented the farmers and dairymen of the country, and that he represented the people of the country and the farmers of the country.

CONTRIBUTORS ASKED FOR WORK ON NEW SMYRNA ROAD.

ANTHONY OWNERS ASKED TO DONATE $10 TO A FUND FOR MAKING TURNS IN NARROW PLACES.

A movement is on foot to raise funds for the purpose of making the new highway between the New Smyrna road from Spanish Creek, northward to Port Orange.

These turnouts, each five feet in length, have already been made on Spanish Creek side, and there are a number of other places in the road on the side of Spanish Creek, where turnouts should be established for the comfort and convenience of those traveling the attractive highway to New Smyrna.

In many places the road is too narrow for the purpose of making it safe, and in some places it is necessary to do so, and with the increased traffic it is necessary to make it safe for an automobile or other vehicle.

Mr. Burke said he represented many associations of cattle growers, cotton and oleomargarine associations, National Dairy Union, and National Oleomargarine Association, and that he represented the farmers and dairymen of the country, and that he represented the people of the country and the farmers of the country.

THE BEGINNING OF LENT.

NEW YORK, ESPECIALLY, IT DOES NOT NECESSARILY MEAN
BLACK CLOTH AND ASHES.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Today, Ash

Wednesday, marks the beginning of Lent, when social pleasures are supposed to give place to a season of fasting and prayer. So far as New York is concerned the social season has been on the wane for weeks, many of the notable contributors to the city's entertainment having already taken their departures for the west, the Pacific Coast or Europe.

For those who remain in town, however, the Lenten period does not necessarily mean sackcloth and ashes.

Instead, the season is marked by entertainment having all-

ready taken their departures for the

west, the Pacific Coast or Europe.

OLEO TAX MAY BE REPEALED.

SAID THAT THE TAX IS RESPON-SIBLE FOR THE PRESENT HIGH

PRICE OF BUTTER THROUGH-

OUT THE COUNTRY—MAY RE-

PEAL OLEO TAX.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Hearing of evidence was commenced today by the House Committee on Agriculture on the bill introduced by representative Burleson, of Texas, repealing the tax on oleomargarine, which tax, he asserted, was responsible for the present high price of butter throughout the country.

Before this tax was imposed, Burleson said, there was manufactured annually 130,000,000 pounds of oleomargarine, which he characterized as a pure and wholesome food product and which sold for from 12 to 18 cents a pound. The price of butter was 20 to 30 cents a pound.

The production of oleomargarine has been diminished 66 2-3 per cent, as a result of the tax, and the price of butter has gone up from 28 to 60 cents a pound.

Passage of the law was secured,

Burleson charged, by the National Dairy Union and by "a stupendous lobby which, it is said, expended vast sums of money."

Mr. Burleson said he represented many associations of cattle growers, cotton seed crushers' associations, National Retail Grocers' associations and Western and Southern chambers of commerce in demanding the repeal of the tax and the lowering the price of butter.

MILLIONS OF PEOPLE

TO QUIT MEAT.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—With the beginning of Lent today, it is expected that many millions of Americans will join in inaugurating a period of absolute fasting, so far as meat is concerned, and the outlook for the packers is but a gloomy one. With the sanction of religion added to the economic appeal, the anti-meat eaters consider the victory already as good as won, and they predict that by Easter all kinds of meat will be selling at little more than half the prices recently charged. Reports from all over the country today appear to confirm this view.

CONTRIBUTIONS ASKED FOR WORK ON NEW SMYRNA ROAD.

AUTOMOBILE OWNERS ASKED TO DONATE $5.00 TO A FUND FOR MAKING TURNOUTS IN NAR-

ROW PLACES.

A movement is on foot to raise funds for the purpose of making the very necessary turnouts on the New

Smyrna road from Spruce Creek, northward to Port Orange.

Three turnouts, each forty feet in length, have already been made on Spruce Creek alone, and there are a number of other places in the road this side of Spruce Creek, where turnout should be established for the comfort and convenience of those traveling this attractive highway to

New Smyrna.

In many places the road bed is too narrow for automobiles to pass in safety, and in some places quite impossible to do so, and with the increased travel, it is sometimes necessary for an automobile or other vehicle to await the passing of a number of others before it can pursue its way.

In order to accomplish this work owners of automobiles are asked to contribute five dollars each, and these donations may be handed or forwarded to Maj. A. B. Foster, E. D.

W. Rose, A. W. Wells, W. E. Blodgett, or George H. Munroe, who constitute a committee to receive funds for the proposed work.

One of Daytona's crowning glories is her incomparable beach. No one who ever set foot upon its smooth, packed sands; no one who ever pedaled a bicycle over its expanse; no one who ever drove a prancing pair of horses and listened to the popping of their steel shoes upon its asphaltum-like face; no one who ever steered a high-power automobile down the broad stretch of wave-washed and surf-packed sand but realized that it is a world-beater, a world-wonder. Go stand upon this wide speedway and see the happy souls flit by in joyous mood, and answer whether this is not one of the seven modern wonders.

The Placid, Pellucid Halifax River.
Where think you is water with more picturesque surroundings? Nearly a mile wide, fringed with tropical vegetation, artistic cottages with roomy verandas looking out upon her bosom, gamey food fishes in countless numbers beckoning, as it were, to those with rod and reel; her bosom fleck-ed with duck and coot and snow-winged sea birds, which sit about as if for the sport of bobbing upon the waves; watch that lubberly old white headed pelican pouch a fat mullet, and that fish hawk struggling upward with his floundering load he snatched from the water.

See the beautiful launches, spick and span, their hampers and lockers bulging with refreshments both solid and liquid ready for a cruise upon the beautiful surface. Take out your fuel glass and sweep the river from Ormond bridge to Ponce Park light house, then say whether the Halifax isn't a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and one of the modern wonders.

The Enchantingly Picturesque Ridgewood.

Ridgewood avenue is upon the crest of a broad ridge, straight as the crow flies and the wide-spreading branches of the heavy-trunked live oaks extend their giant arms across the magnificent vista, forming an arch, and from these extended arms great fes-teons of Spanish moss sway as the trade winds from the tropic seas fan them. Looking straight ahead down this white shell street one has the impression of a fairy path with elfish draperies, but as you move along and cast an eye first to the right and then to the left you see distinguished cottage homes in the most delightful settings.

See the glistening leaf of the grand magnolia which nature has varnished as no artists' brush ever could; and the cabbage palms with their burdens of showy fruit and swaying palms;
see the lovely holly with its exquisite berry; see the climbing vines run riot in the trees; see the cryptogamons forms which gain a foothold on the great oaks and stately palms, and surely you will join in the chorus and say that this is a world wonder for beauty.

Surpassing Beauty of Our Cottage Homes.

No one of Daytona's attractions, perhaps, commands more nearly universal attention and praise than does the artistic cottages. The owners of these charming villas hail from every corner of the country and they bring their own architectural plans and build upon them, and, as the architecture of one section of the country differs from the architecture of another, so do our homes differ in outward appearance and structural beauty from one another. There are no monotonous rows of strikingly similar buildings but the eye, as it sweeps by, is treated to a kaleidoscopic change which keeps the mind wondering,
"What next?"

It is not only the exterior of many of these homes which rivets attention; within they are models of convenience, and the finishing and furnishing give evidence of the elegance and cultivation of those who worked it all out. Indeed, it is the interior arrangement and artistic furnishing and shading, more than the exterior appearance that gives a surpassing charm to Daytona homes. This feature justly merits prominence as another wonder.

fact must be apparent to the most superficial observer. With such lavish wealth of natural beauty it became an easy thing for the hand of man to give the finishing touches which have wrought out the colors and outlines of the big picture.

Man did all this in the laying out of the streets with their wide margins of parkage. The entire city becomes a great park, with driveways intersecting miles upon miles of driveways so good as to attract motorists from all over the continent.

And as for the pavements, pavements that look and act like granite, —where else between the eastern and western seas are so many miles in proportion to inhabitants? The pavement question stands with the street as one of the chief drawing cards. Till some unheard of place reports more and better, Daytona throws down the gauntlet to the world.

Squirrels, Flowers, Birds and Fruit.
Whatever one's shortcomings and however indifferent or even callous one may be to many things, the mere mention of "flowers and Squirrels, birds and fruits" will send a thrill that is reflected in distended pupils and pricked ears.

For every visitor with a spare goober there is a bunny ready to come and accept your gift. He will sit bolt upright and know into the meat, casting furtive, saucy glances at you meanwhile.

Flowers. Usually fresh and blooming the year 'round you are reminded of Goldsmith's couplet where Smiling spring its earliest visit paid
And summer's lingering blossoms are delayed.

In one yard roses of variegated hues predominate; another household has a penchant for the poinsettia and the premises are aflame; another is hidden in a jungle of tall cane. Variety is the spice of life and here is where you find it.

The birds flit in, and with their joyous notes help to give fullness and symmetry to the picture.

As for fruits, choice citrus fruits, Daytona yields the palm to none for quality and quantity per acre. There are scores of citrus groves in proximity to the city, branches bending to the earth with their burdens of luscious golden globes, which for beauty, prolificacy and all desirable qualities would truly astonish you.

The Fastest Autos and The Finest Out.

The seventh world wonder, do you ask? Come, whether from Missouri or from Maine, from Kalamazoo or Timbukto, and you will be "shown." Here is where the world's record for speed is broken with every recurring season. Autos, the biggest, the fastest, and the finest are on daily parade and the big show is as free as the pure artesian water from the thousands of flowing wells. It is a continuous show with constantly shifting scene.

Everything goes, from a 2-horse power, up to a 200-horse power, and all degrees of speed from acanter to a two-mile-a-minute clip. You will probably catch the spirit, when you do the roads and the beach are yours.
The Florida sunshine is free, the balmy ocean breezes are free, the birds and squirrels and flowers are free, the sparkling fountain water is free and you will have to go down into your wallet only for coin for auto, and bed and board.

This is no fanciful picture; it's all here. It is drawing other thousands and holding them enthralled, it will charm and hold you. Come and see.

SEABREEZE

SEABREEZE and DAYTONA BEACH, two enterprising and progressive towns on the Halifax Peninsula, are geographically one although incorporated as separate municipalities. The towns parallel the peninsula north and south for a distance of from three and one-half to four miles, and extend east and west from the surging seas of the Atlantic Ocean to the Halifax River, the beautiful tide-water stream that sets them apart from Daytona with which they have close communion by means of three bridges, as well as a half-hour ferry service.

Seabreeze and Daytona Beach are essentially summer and winter resorts and are making hundreds of new friends every year among those who desire to escape the discomforting extremes of heat and cold, and their hotels and boarding houses are now receiving splendid patronage from the most discriminating class of tourists.

The mean average temperature, 80 degrees in the summer and 70 degrees in the winter, with an occasional extra rise or drop of a few days duration, marks this as one of the most healthful locations in any section of the country, north, east, south or west.

The ocean itself, with its marvelous beach, hard as macadam and smooth as a floor, is the greatest attraction, although earth and air and sky seem to have entered into a combination to enhance its every charm. The beach is the famous automobile race course where every world's straightaway record has been made, and all these records it continues to hold without rivalry.

The sand of this famous speedway is composed largely of the shells of the coquina clam, which are about one-half inch long and very thin.
For ages Nature has been rolling them up, washing them back into the surf and pulverizing them. Examined under the microscope each particle is round, unfit for mortar, builders say, because its smoothness prevents its holding together, yet, strange to contemplate, the very moment a wave leaves the wet, apparently soft beach, these round particles settle down into a cement almost as hard as asphalt, beyond the comprehension of one who has not seen it. Repairs are unnecessary, as twice each 24 hours it is entirely rebuilt by the tides.
The beach has a width of 300 to 500 feet, and can be used from two hours after until two hours before high tide, thus giving an average of seven or eight hours for automobiling some part of each day.

Seabreeze and Daytona Beach each have a permanent population of approximately 1500. Sanitary ordinances are strictly enforced, streets and sidewalks are well kept, and new streets are being opened as fast as the increasing population demands. Besides hotels and boarding houses there is ample cottage accommodation for all winter visitors.

Seabreeze contains a handsome opera house and a Congregational Church; at Daytona Beach is a M. E.
Church. An excellent high school is situated near the division line between the two towns. Both towns have enterprising business establishments, as is evidenced by the advertisements on the left and right.

All the attractiveness of Seabreeze applies to Daytona Beach, the two towns being so similarly situated.
The development of Daytona Beach has been fully as phenomenal as its sister on the north, and each year there is a substantial growth. The great sand dunes have been leveled and handsome homes have been built for both winter and all-year-round occupancy. Flowering shrubs have been planted, which are covered with a wealth of bloom both summer and winter.

Work of rebuilding the Clarendon hotel is now in progress. This magnificent fire-proof structure, which is to contain 250 rooms, when completed will be the peer of any hotel in Florida. The site is immediately north of the clubhouse of the Florida East Coast Automobile Association.

The Ocean Pier is a great attraction to fishermen and it is lined summer and winter with enthusiastic disciples of Izaak Walton, who find it nothing unusual to land fish weighing several hundred pounds.

PROGRESSIVE NEW SMYRNA

NEW SMYRNA is situated fifteen miles south of Daytona and is an ideal spot reached from Daytona by a hard surface road winding through one of the most picturesque parts of Florida.

With its ancient ruins dating back to a time when the history of man runneth not, interlaced with wires of the modern telegraph and telephone, its miles of shell streets as hard and smooth as a floor and over-arched by hoary forest giants that grew in stately grandeur during the lapse of bygone centuries, New Smyrna is truly a place of romance and rest.

All nature here is very inviting to the tourist and pleasure-seeker. Here too is to be found the best fishing and hunting in the State of Florida.

The people are thrifty, the business men enterprising, and all unite in extending the welcome hand of hospitality to strangers. There are five church edifices for white people and an equal number for the colored population; the town has an excellent high school, a splendid public library, and up-to-date business houses.

There are any number of pretty homes for the permanent population, which numbers close to 2,000, and some very fine winter residences. There are good hotels and boarding houses where you can find accommodations to meet your requirements.

Adjoining New Smyrna is as fine a section of vegetable land as can be found anywhere. This land has been divided into small farms which can be bought at reasonable prices. Some of the finest celery grown in the State is raised on this land. All other vegetables grow in abundance, and here, too, is the home of the famous Indian River oranges.

New Smyrna has no bonded indebtedness and the tax levy is low.

A point that no tourist should fail to visit is the ruins of the Old Spanish Mission which stand about one and a quarter miles southwest of New Smyrna. A good road leads to the place and the trip can be easily made by an automobile. Silent in the great pine flats by the margin of the forest, is this place of pilgrimage for the pious; this rendezvous for the picnicker. The ruins are extensive, and while there is no authentic history of their origin, it is presumed that the Mission was built by the Franciscans in the days when the once powerful Kingdom of Spain first planted its flag upon what is now American soil. It was built of coquina, the roof being of the same material, cut into thin slabs and covered with cement plaster. Extensive gardens surrounded it, which were enclosed by a stone wall, portions of which still remain. Visitors usually come in parties merry and curious but the spell of the place soon falls upon them and they separate to sit alone, silent and meditative, under the arches or beside the ancient well.

CORONADO

Is situated on the peninsula opposite New Smyrna and is connected by a good road and bridge over the deep current of Indian River. Here you can put aside your conventional garb, breathe in large and deep the salty tonic of the sea and enjoy yourself to your heart's content with rod and reel in row or sail boat or in the ocean surf a short half-mile away. The great varieties of fish inhabiting the river and lagoon pass through the channel from the sea beneath the bridge. From verandas, upper balconies and windows you behold the magnificent river, the distant lagoons and islands, the forest-covered peninsula and the vast reaches of the Atlantic Ocean.

HAWKS PARK

A pretty village located along the ridge above the Indian River two and one-half miles south of New Smyrna and connected with fine shell roads. There is the appearance of newness, comfort and seclusion about the place which stamps it as the abode of people who come here to enjoy the blessings of outdoor life away from places where crowds are apt to gather.

ORMOND is five miles north of Daytona, located on the western bank of the Halifax River. The location of the town permits of good drainage and perfect sanitation; the elevation is superb and ideal for winter homes. A wide bridge connects Ormond with Ormond Beach.

Many fine residences are maintained on either side of the river, most of them embellished with sub-tropical flora and shrubbery, besides thrifty orange and other citrus fruit trees.

The town is very cosmopolitan, has an excellent graded school, several churches, a fine public library, up-to-date places of business and comfortable and convenient hotels and boarding houses.

Ormond has many of the Florida attractions—fine fruit, good fishing, excellent automobile, safe boating, salubrious climate and pleasant walks and drives.

At Ormond Beach is located the large Hotel Ormond, and its lesser sister, Bretton Inn. The former occupies a position overlooking the Halifax River, while the latter has as its outlook the magnificent beach and the broad Atlantic.

The walks in all directions are particularly attractive, and the arbors, shady and inviting spots and romantic nooks are crowded with rustic seats which are mute invitations to enter into the enjoyment thereof.

Besides the broad, smooth ocean beach there are many drives for carriage or automobile—long drives and short drives; drives through groves of golden oranges; drives through dense tropical forests to Spanish ruins; drives to the ancient Causeway of long ago, and to the plantations of hospitable settlers. These places are replete with the interest of Southern fruits and flowers.

One of these interesting plantations is Number Nine, located on the peninsula, five miles north of the Hotel Ormond. Here you see a fine orange grove, together with great varieties of other sub-tropical fruits and flowers.

Five miles further on you come to Moundgrove, one of the finest orange groves in this section of Florida. Moundgrove is on the headwaters of the Halifax River and is amid pretty surroundings. The place is reached by a good road (passing Number Nine) and is a drive all tourists may enjoy.

DELAND, THE ATHENS OF FLORIDA

DELAND, the county seat of Volusia County, is situated 23 miles southwest of Daytona and is reached from the latter city by an excellent hard-surface road recently constructed.

At Deland is located the John B. Stetson University, one of the leading educational institutions of the South. Because of the interest in matters educational Deland is known as "The Athens of Florida."

Stetson University has a faculty of 50 professors and instructors. There are over $400,000 in buildings and equipment; a Carnegie Library alone representing an investment in building, endowment and books, of more than $120,000. The library is the United States Government depository for the State of Florida, and contains over 15,000 volumes. Science Hall, one of the newest of 16 buildings, with its furnishings, represents an outlay of $60,000. Elizabeth Hall is one of the most beautiful college buildings in the South.

The city has a population of about 3,500, with a thickly settled country adjacent. Deland proper is five miles east of the St. Johns River, on the high, rolling pine land of the great "Orange Ridge" of Florida.

The predominating products are oranges and grapefruit, the estimated crop from this vicinity being over 300,000 boxes this year. Grapes, peaches, pears, Japan persimmons, plums, pecans, guavas, strawberries and other fruits are grown in plenty.

In the way of public improvements are many miles of fine shell roads, an excellent high school, electric lights, a system of waterworks that is owned and operated by the city, supplying the purest water at water works.

Nine houses of worship testify that Deland is a church-going community. Baptists, Episcopalians, Methodists (Northern and Southern), Presbyterians, Christians and Catholics, besides colored Baptists and Methodists, are represented.

The graded school offers a ten years' course, and the building which it occupies is newly furnished throughout, and is one of the most commodious and best equipped public schools in the State.

The trip from Daytona to Deland is made by automobile in a little over an hour, and there are many pretty drives in the vicinity of the county site. A good road leads to DeLeon Springs, five miles, a historic spot, where 60,000 gallons of water bubble from the earth every minute.

From Deland automobiles go south to Osteen, 18 miles, on shell and marl roads; the St. Johns is crossed by ferry near Osteen and cars can then continue to Sanford and Orlando by hard road. There is a shell road from Deland to Orange City, five miles, and a good road from Deland to Lake Helen, a like distance.

Surrounded by several pretty lakes and guarded by lofty pine trees is Lake Helen, a winter resort of no little importance. Camp Cassadaga, a spiritualistic camp-ground is situated near Lake Helen and at this place several hundred people make winter headquarters. A large lumber mill and the largest brick plant in the South are located at Lake Helen.

ORANGE CITY

The principal attraction around Orange City is the many handsome golden orange groves. The town is supplied with water said to be the purest in the world, another attraction to visitors. It is at Orange City that passengers over the Florida East Coast Ry. transfer to carriages and drive to Deland. The town is surrounded by land peculiarly adapted to the cultivation of citrus fruits.

MEAT BOYCOTT SPREADING EVERYWHERE; FEDERAL PROSECUTOR AND LEADING PACKER.

EDWIN W. SIMS

MICHAEL CUDAHY

Few positions of recent years have met with such widespread acceptance among the people as the boycott on the eating of meat as a protest against the high prices. The movement originated in the middle west and has spread with remarkable speed to other sections of the country. While the people are concerned principally with the reduction of their food bills, men in official positions, both state and national, are seeking the cause of the high prices. Prominent packers, against whom the federal government has begun proceedings under the anti-trust law, declare that the reason for the high prices is to be found in the scarcity of meat animals, while the consumers point to the high dividends declared by the packing companies. Michael Cudahy, one of the heads of the Cudahy Packing company, which is one of the biggest of the meat handling concerns, declared recently that the cause of high food prices is to be found in the discrepancy between "consuming power and producing power." The government prosecution of the packers centers in Chicago and is in charge of Edwin W. Sims, United States district attorney for the northern district of Illinois.

Danger of Poor Teeth.

Just what effect on the stomach is produced by the constant swallowing bacteria and pus from diseased teeth, mingled with decomposing particles of food, we are unable to determine, but it is reasonable to suppose that gastric disturbances are greatly aggravated if not induced by so doing. In every community there are those who are enthusiasts on the subject of pure air and wholesome food, but whose mouths are in such a neglected condition that the air which passes through them is almost as polluted as that of a crowded tenement, and every mouthful of food swallowed carries with it to the stomach millions of bacteria. The almost entire futility of sterilizing articles of diet for patients in whose mouth chronic abscesses exist or whose teeth are covered with tartar mixed with mucus and food in a state of decomposition need hardly be mentioned.—Boston Herald.

Four Kinds of Pupils.

The Talmud says there are four kinds of pupils—the sponge and the funnel, the strainer and the sieve. The sponge is he who taketh up everything, and the funnel is he who taketh in at this ear and letteth out at that; the strainer is he that letteth go the wine and retaineth the dross, and the sieve is he that letteth go the bran and retaineth the fine flour. The student who begins at least to wish to belong to the last named class will not have been sent to college in vain.

He Liked It.

Wife—How do you like my new hat? Husband—The idea of paying big prices for— Wife—Big prices! Why, I made it myself. Husband—Um—yes—as I was saying, the idea of paying big prices for such monstrosities as the milliners are showing! Now, your hat is a work of art. Looks as if it came from Paris. Beautiful, my dear!

Pin Money.

Mrs. Brideley—Reggie, dear, you know that $50 you gave me for a new hat? Mr. B.—Yes, dear. Mrs. B.—Well, I've saved the money. Mr. B.—But I see you're wearing a new hat. Mrs. B.—Yes; in order to economize, as you suggested, I kept the $50 and had the hat charged.—Lippincott's.

Seven K.

Live upstairs if you wish to be in good health: "Up how many flights?" Only one flight of seven steps. I will describe them.

First Step.—Eat wheat, oats, corn, fruits, beef, mutton, plainly cooked, in moderate quantity and but two meals a day.

Second Step.—Breathe good air day and night.

Third Step.—Exercise freely in the open air.

Fourth Step.—Retire early and rise early.

Fifth Step.—Wear flannel next your skin every day of the year and so dispose your dress that your limbs may be kept warm. Bathe frequently.

Sixth Step.—Live in the sunshine. Let your bedroom be one which receives a flood of light and spend your days either out in the sunlight or in a room which is well lighted.

Seventh Step.—Cultivate a cheerful temper. Seek the society of jolly people. Absolutely refuse to worry and, above all, don't be afraid to laugh. Live above. Sickness cannot crawl up there. Disease prowls about in the basement. Rarely does it get upstairs.—Dr. F. G. Butler in Chicago Journal.

Cause For Thanks.

"Alas!" sighed the tramp dramatically. "No matter where I turn, there's a hand raised against me."

"Which shows you ought to be thankful for one thing," said the farmer.

"What's that?"

"That it ain't a foot that's raised."

Self Possessed.

Mrs. Manykids—There is one thing about our girls—they are always self possessed. Papa Manykids (grimly)—Yes, they're too self possessed. I wish they'd get some one else to possess them.

She Was Willing.

Man—Well, it's just this way: If I buy you a new coat I'll have to wear my old one another season. Wife—You sweet, generous thing, you!

None but the ill bred ridicule the peculiarities of others.

Delacroix, the painter, was walking out one day in Paris with a friend of his when he fell into a brown study.

"What is up with you now?" said the friend.

"I can't get a certain shade of yellow," replied the artist.

"What sort of yellow?"

Just then a cab drove past.

"The very thing!" the painter gasped out. "Stop, stop!"

"I am engaged," the cabbie replied without stopping.

Delacroix started in pursuit and at a steep place in the Rue des Martyrs overtook the cab. Opening the door, he said in tones of entreaty to the passenger inside:

"Do please tell your driver to stop. I want your complexion for a painting on which I am at work. There is a color merchant close at hand. I shall not detain you above five minutes, and in acknowledgment of the service you render me I will present you with a sketch of my picture."

The bargain was struck. Delacroix got his yellow, and a few months later the "fare" received a sketch of his "Assassination of the Archbishop of Liege."

Truth In Jest.

According to historical tradition, the conquest of Finland was foretold in jest that soon became earnest by its conqueror, Peter the Great, to his jester, Balakireff.

Balakireff had vexed the czar by too impudent a joke and had been summarily banished with the menacing injunction never to appear on Russian soil again. He disappeared discreetly, but one day not long after Peter, glancing out of a window, saw his unmistakable figure and quizzical countenance jogging comfortably by, perched in a country cart. Impulsively he ran down to him and demanded to know why he had disobeyed.

"I haven't disobeyed you," was the answer. "I am not on Russian soil now."

"Not on Russian soil?"

"No. This cart load of earth that I'm sitting on is Swedish soil. I dug it in Finland only the other day."

Peter laughed, but he said, "If Finland be Swedish soil now, it shall be Russian soil before long!" And he made good his words.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

JOE AND SAM.

I want you to read this fine, true story of Joe and Sam Leonard, brothers, aged sixteen and fourteen respectively. I watch the newspapers pretty closely, and this is one of the best human interest items I have seen.

Of the two brothers Sam is blind. Flaxen haired, footsore, sunburned, one leading the other, they were found by a Chicago policeman, who took them to a station, where they were fed.

They had come from New Orleans, riding in box cars. This was Joe's story:

"I don't care so much about myself, but I want to see little Sam go ahead. I came to Chicago to work. I will do anything, from peeling potatoes to scrubbing floors, for Sam's sake. I will get ahead too."

Joe's eyes flashed when he uttered the last sentence. As he told of the death of their father and mother in New Orleans and of their struggles Sam's arm stole around Joe's neck. Joe said papers, but got sick, and they had only $4 left. With this sum they left for "the big city in the north," of which they had heard so much.

But Joe can tell the story better than I can:

"I helped Sammy on a freight train. I got on, and we rode to Memphis. I was so afraid something would happen to Sammy I could hardly sleep. "One night it got cold, and I put my coat over Sam to keep him warm. A tramp was in the box car, and I was so sleepy I couldn't watch him. When I woke up in the morning he had left with my coat and $3 which I had in my pocket."

"Then they put us off at Centralia, Ill., and we had to wait a whole day before a freight train stopped. I begged a little something for Sammy to eat. I didn't want much."

Getting up on his sturdy legs, Joe spoke out bravely: "I am strong and healthy, and I am going to work to keep Sam. You know, Sam is pretty smart, and I will soon make enough money to put him through school. Oh, if I get a job then we will get along fine!"

Splendid Joe Leonard! Match him as a big brother if you can!

To the touchstone of hardship the soul stuff in the boy of sixteen rises into the heroic optimism of strong character.

In true feeling, in brotherly self sacrifice, in high will power, Joe Leonard is already a man!

The city of Chicago will be unworthy of the manly spirit of this brave and tender heart if it fails to give him a chance. And the boy asks only half a chance to begin.

Read the little story over again. It has many touches of real heroism.

Cindy's Logic.

Cindy was an old black southern "mammy," with all the lovable traits and inconsistencies of her kind. For many years she was cook in the Warren family and gave faithful and satisfactory service.

One summer the entire family were away for two months, and Mr. Warren gave Cindy a real vacation by paying her full wages for that time and giving her the keys to the well stocked storeroom.

A few days after the return of the family Cindy came bustling into Mrs. Warren's sitting room.

"I wants mo' wages," she announced. "Why, Cindy," exclaimed the surprised mistress, "you are getting better pay than any cook I know of in a family the size of ours. You have a nice, comfortable room and good treatment. Think how kind it was of Mr. Warren to give you a long vacation with your full wages."

"Dat's it," grumbled Cindy. "Mr. Warren paid me dat money fur doin' nuthin'. An' now all you folks is come back fur me to cook fur an' wait on. An' I gits more money or I leaves."—Lippincott's.

A Costly Client.

Miss Bayley told me that Mr. Phipps the oculist, told a gentleman, who told her, the following anecdote of the late Duchess of Devonshire: Mr. Phipps was sent for to Chatsworth to operate upon the duchess' eye. He stayed there some time and at parting received from the duke a fee of £1,000. Just before he stepped into his carriage a message from the duchess brought him to her chamber. She hoped the duke had done what was handsome by Mr. Phipps. The gentleman protested:

"Yes, and more than handsome." "It is an awful thing," continued her grace, "to ask, but really I am at this moment in immediate want of such a sum, and if you could, Mr. Phipps."

What could the oculist do? He produced his £1,000, took his leave and never heard of his money from that day to this.—From "Recollections of a Long Life," by Lord Broughton (John Cam Hobhouse).

Shakespeare's House.

The house in which the master bard was born is located in Henley street, Stratford-on-Avon, England. Washington Irving said of this famous abode of genius: "It is a small, mean looking edifice of wood and plaster, a true nestling place of genius, which seems to delight in hatching its offspring in by-ways. The walls of its squalid chambers are covered with names and inscriptions in every language by pilgrims of all nations, ranks and conditions, from the prince to the peasant, and present a simple but striking instance of the spontaneous and universal homage of mankind to the great poet of nature."

Several years ago the house was purchased by subscription with a view to the careful preservation of it and of its contents for the inspection of future generations.

Tuning a Bell.

No matter how great may be the care taken in making the mold, a bell has to be tuned before it will ring a clear, true note. As a matter of fact, every bell sounds five notes, all of which must blend together harmoniously. If one is the least bit out of the tone will be spoiled. The first of these notes is produced by the vibrations at the mouth of the bell, the second by the vibrations a little higher up, the third still higher up, and so on to the fifth, which is produced quite near the top. As the character of the sound which rings depends upon the thickness of the metal, it is possible, by taking thin shavings from various places in the inside of the bell, to alter the five notes until they are all in harmony.

The Experiment Failed.

When a small boy mentioned in Short Stories grows up the scientific curiosity he displayed may be a valuable possession. Meanwhile his mother objects to it.

"Ma," remarked the boy, "Isn't it funny that everybody calls little brother a bouncing baby?"

"Why do you think it's funny, William?" asked his mother.

"Because when I dropped him off the porch this morning he didn't bounce a bit; he just hollered."

When Valor Balks.

A couple of Kansas men were talking of fearlessness the other day. "All this talk," said one of them, "reminds me of a peace officer I knew a number of years ago in western Kansas. This officer was entirely fearless—in fact, the kind of chap who would have charged hades with a single bucket of water. To look down into the barrel of a gun in the other fellow's hand was as placidly accepted an affair for him as to light his pipe. He was sent for one day.

"What's the matter?" he asked. "Cowboy in that room," said a citizen, designating the place. "He's wild and dangerous. He's locked himself in, and we're afraid he'll break out and do us harm."

"So this officer opened the door of the room and looked in. The cowboy had a six shooter in one hand and a stick of dynamite in the other and calmly remarked that he would turn them both loose in case the officer came into the room. The officer considered the thing for a minute. Then he backed away and as he did so remarked:

"Let him sleep it off. They is times when a man who ain't afraid is a blind fool."—Kansas City Journal.

Too Attentive.

"People who write begging letters are entirely too persistent," said a charity official. "They remind me of a summer resort episode. A young man went there for his two weeks' vacation. He put up at a cottage. He paid about $9 a week. Well, when he came to depart this young man said to the boarding mistress:

"Madam, you have been most attentive to me during my stay here."

"Thank you, sir; thank you very much," said the lady.

"Yes," continued the young man, "you have been most attentive, and not only you, but everybody—everybody in the house, if I may say so—has been most perseveringly attentive to me day and night, and, madam, to show my appreciation I am going to offer you a small present."

"How very kind!" said the landlady, and a bright, expectant smile lit up her face. Then the young man thrust into her extended hand a packet of insect powder and retired hastily."

Out of His Line.

Western Relative.—Well, Wendell, what was the score today? Little Boston Boy.—Really, I do not know. Is it not your opinion, Uncle William, that the theism of Clement and Athanasius furnishes a much more tenable basis for a rational theory of creation than is afforded by that of Augustine?—Chicago Tribune.

Whitefield on Love and Marriage.

George Whitefield, the most persuasive preacher England has produced, who died on Sept. 30, 1770, could appeal so powerfully to the emotions that he once enticed all the money from the pocket of the prudent Franklin. Yet he strangely anticipated some modern unromantic views on the subject of marriage. In 1740 he applied to the parents of a young lady for the hand of their daughter, adding, "If I know anything of my own heart I am free from that foolish passion which the world calls love."

When this prosaic proposal was declined the undaunted Whitefield married an elderly Welsh widow "neither rich nor beautiful." This "merry widow" did not make a congenial helpmate, and Whitefield remarked, with refreshing candor, that "her death set 'his' mind at rest!"—Westminster Gazette.

Catching Monkeys.

Ringtailed monkeys, which rank among the most valuable, commercially speaking, of the small animals, are caught in an interesting way. A coconut is split in two and a banana with a piece of wood running through it placed lengthwise through the nut, the two halves of which are drawn together by wires. Then a hole is cut just large enough for the monkey's paw to enter. The monkey spies the tempting nut from his tree. He hops down, looks it over, sees the hole and smells the banana inside. He is fond of bananas. Putting his paw in, he grasps it, but the wood prevents it from coming out. Then the catchers appear, and the monkey runs for a tree, but he cannot climb because of the coconut on his paw, and he will not let go of that, so he is captured, pawing wildly at the tree trunk.

A NEW YEAR GIFT.

By BEVERLY WORTHINGTON.
[Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.]

"Mr. Bickford," said the president, "you are aware, I suppose, that this business is solely for making money. What pays goes; what doesn't pay does not go. Besides, my stockholders keep me up to making dividends. If I don't pay dividends my head goes off. We can get your work done for half of the salary we pay you. We shall not need your services after the 1st of January."

"But, Mr. Tinkham, I've been with you sixteen years. I'm now thirty-six. Places are being filled by younger men. I fear I may not get another."

"That is your misfortune."
"I don't know what I shall do."
"I have no time to listen to what your future may be. I have other matters to attend to."

Bickford fretted over his discharge till it made him ill. One day a chum said to him:

"Bickford, I tell you what you do. You've got $1,000, I know. Spend half of it having a good time. Resign your position and go off where you'll find something to distract your attention from this bugbear. When you feel strong come back and go to work at anything you can get to do. If you stay here you'll go under."

Bickford took the advice. He went to Florida, putting up at a hotel where he paid $5 a day for his board, and stayed there a month. Instead of getting matters into a better he got them into a worse fix. He fell desperately in love.

The object of Bickford's affection was Miss Maida Tibbetts, a young girl who was staying at one of the less pretentious hotels. It was more quiet and comfortable than the caravansary where Bickford was staying, and Miss Tibbetts' mother, an invalid, was with her, and the house was better fitted for such a person. Nevertheless from appearances there was no money in the Tibbetts family. Bickford felt that he was playing a contemptible part in making it appear by the amount that he daily expended for board that he was opulent when in reality he was without any income whatever. But in his affair with Miss Tibbetts he found at least a temporary mental relief from his troubles and had no heart to break with her till he was obliged to. When his $300 was spent, except enough for his railway ticket home, he found himself in a position to make an explanation. He told the girl the facts.

Probably she would have blamed him for what he had done had it not been for her repugnance to the treatment he had received.

"These modern ways of doing business," she said, "are execrable. As soon as a man has established a successful business he capitalizes it. This gives him a board of directors, to whom he pretends to be responsible. This in turn gives him an ostensible excuse to run the business without a soul. Then he gets rid of those who have helped him build it up and replaces them by cheaper men, mere cogwheels in the great machine he has been constructing."

The question between Bickford and Miss Tibbetts was what should they do. They loved, and Bickford could not support a wife. Miss Tibbetts was an ardent believer in love as a basis of matrimony, with or without money. She said that when she got back to the north she thought she could find something among her relatives for Bickford to do. He had $300 in bank at home, which, with some funds of hers, would last them for several months. Bickford saw that she favored the plan of being married then and there, and, with many misgivings, he consented. He had come away without any income with which to support even himself. He went back with a wife requiring--so he considered it--a far greater income than for one.

Mrs. Bickford after the marriage insisted on remaining a month longer in Florida. Her mother needed to stay there and would stand the additional expense. The young wife did a great deal of writing and received a number of letters, with the contents of which her husband was not made acquainted. When the extra month had passed they all packed their trunks and went back north.

They arrived in the city in the morning of Jan. 1. Miss Bickford sent her mother home in a carriage, while she and her husband remained in the business district, where they breakfasted. After breakfast the young wife told her husband that she had a position for him and would make the final arrangements before going home. She led the way and stopped at the building where he had been employed.

"What does this mean?" asked Bickford.

"Take me to the president's office."
"But this is New Year's morning. He will not be here."
"I think he will."

Bickford led her to Mr. Tinkham's private office. True enough, the president was there, evidently waiting for something in a mystified condition.

"Mr. Tinkham," said the wife, "you have been notified, I believe, that the purchaser of a certain block of stock recently giving the purchaser the control of this corporation wished to see you this morning at your office. I am that purchaser. I desire to put the concern in other hands for the ensuing year. I would like your resignation."

"And whom do you propose to put in my place?" cried the astonished man.

"I shall give it as a New Year's present to my husband, Mr. Bickford."

Why She Posed.

As a New York photographer bowed a sallow, tottering woman of middle age out of his studio he closed the door gently and turned to a waiting customer.

"That beats the Dutch," said he. "There's a woman who has been in bed two weeks and whose doctor supposes she is there at this moment. She is convinced that she is near death, and as she hasn't had any picture or herself taken since she was a child she got out of bed despite a friend's protest, dressed and came here to sit to me in order that she may leave a photograph to her husband, who is a traveling man and now in the far west."

"When a woman will she will. But that's a queer gamble with the big shadow, all right."—New York Globe.

Brother Goodsole's Mistake.

"Brother Goodsole," asked the Rev. K. Mowatt Laightly, "did you announce last Sunday that I would occupy your pulpit this morning?"

"Indeed, I did, Brother Laightly."

"Yet look at the smallness of the congregation. I can't account for it."

Once comets were deemed, images primeval, precursors of war, of famine and evil. But science stepped in, and made declaration, no harm could come to us from their visitation. No matter how frightful, still science declares that comets don't meddle in human affairs. But science is wrong, for none can deny, that the comet which came, unannounced, in the sky at first wore its tail in the cut-away style, and after disporting around for awhile, the telescope told us, the fact was decided, that the tail of the comet was strangely divided, and this change was made, to obey the decree, some "F. F.'s" had sent, by a breeze from the sea, that in social affairs, they planned to begin it—make the style of the coat outweigh the man in it! To move in high circles, the comet was ripe and so changed its dress to the swallow-tailed type.

BYRON W. KING
AS AN ENTERTAINER.

The second entertainment of the Lyceum Course was given at the First Baptist Church Tuesday evening, and the lecturer, Byron W. King, A. M. Ph. D., president of the School of Oratory, of Pittsburg, Pa., was greeted with an audience which filled the church.

Mr. King gave his lecture, "All the World's a Stage," which is considered one of his masterpieces.

Mr. King is a fluent and rapid speaker, has a wide vocabulary, uses his words as a gladiator uses his sword, and his every sentence is rounded to make a clear cut picture.

If you are near the school building about the noon hour, when the children are pouring out of the school building to the play grounds, it will be worth your while to stop and study the picture, if you are not too crusty or selfish to love young life. About this hour the twenty five or thirty men, black and white, engaged as mechanics, masons or hod carriers on the new school building, are lounging around under the trees south of the building, partaking of their noon lunch or after dinner smoke, while numerous bicycles, carrying one, two or even three small school tads flit from around the corner, down the bridge path and across the narrow bridge homeward. There is no picture that appeals more deeply to the truly altruist than a playground full of children, and nothing is lonelier than an empty playground.
